

Ask a question that is relevant to you. That question is best to be a 'yes / no' answer. Hold and shuffle the cards so they have your energy with them. You can turn over one card for a simple answer or up to 3 cards for a more in-depth answer to the same question. If you are working with someone else, get them to hold and shuffle the cards, hand them back to you, and they can ask the question as you reveal their answer.
